I bought Vampire Diary on a whim, but it has become my favorite of any vampire book. It really shows you what it must feel like to watch yourself slip into complete madness and become an uncontrollable animal. The writing and pictures are great, and the book itself helps to add to the persona of the story. It makes you feel like you're really reading a diary of someone as they turned to the darkness. I loved it.

I ordered this small gem on a whim. The idea of having to open a book with a key, allowing the reader to interact with the story from the beginning, caught my attention. Okay, I'll buy and try, I thought. Well, when I received it, opened it with one of the two keys that came along, and began reading, I was hooked. The Vampire Diary is exactly that... a diary! The pages are all "handwritten" jottings, notes, screams, and drawings. I could not put it down until I finished it. The length is short, immensely readable, and immensurably mesmerizing. Absolute genius, and 10x worth the price.

A beautiful book, literally. It's written like a teenager's diary with illustrations. It captures what it feels like to be that young and trying to figure out the world, while adding the world of darkness/vampire the masquerade influences in. If you can find it for a reasonable price, I highly recommend it!

OK so this book is basically a diary. Right down to the key that is needed to open the book. It has lovely illustrations by the "autor", a bartender who is slowly sinking into a dark world that very well may take his soul. He works at a goth club and a few of the patrons (and owners) wind up being actual vampires. The only downside is that this is written as a diary in the first person perspective so when the main charecter goes off to what would be the finale, he just leaves and you're left hangin wondering what happened in the end. Definatly recommended. I've had this book for at least 10 years now and have yet to read another like it. I don't even know if there was a sequal. If not it definately deserved one.
