Customer Reviews

This unique and hip book has 50 designs the reader can enjoy making! If you think of what is on trend right now, and you like the style of boho chic, you will truly love this smashing book! The authors, along with contributors Mary Jane Dodd, Denise Yezbak Moore, and Tracy Statler, offer you tons of accessible ways to use cords, ribbon, leather and other fashionable materials in combination with organic type components and lots of color, color, color! Many of the projects are great for beginners. That is always wonderful, because if you love jewelry (or you have a friend who does whom you would like to give a gift to), but you don't know how or where to start, Bohemian-Inspired Jewelry by Lorelei Eurto and Erin Siegel is an easy to understand, pretty way to begin making jewelry. What is "Bohemian-Inspired" jewelry? In the introduction, the authors state,

"It's an artistic, nature-inspired, and playful combination of materials and textures". They also add, "We hope our fifty jewelry designs inspire you to create hundreds of your own." Inspiration is rampant in this book. Each of the pieces you will see are very unique and appealing. The book begins with a pretty guide to ribbons and cords, which includes a section on how to care for silk ribbon. It continues on with the specialty findings one might need to finish a piece of jewelry using a certain technique. Then there is a list and photos of basic findings and materials. Following this is a list of tools and a techniques section. All these introductory sections are not at all daunting, rather they are informative and well laid out. They all combine to lead up to the projects.
